

Faubus Sees No Change in L. R. School Problem

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A situation which has been a source of Little Rock school teachers' trouble today to meet any new school crisis.

"Stop is just getting started," said Dr. Drew F. Agar, chairman of the Committee to Stop This Outrageous Purge.

STOP formed only three weeks ago, scored a smashing victory at the polls Monday when voters backed its efforts to oust three school board members who fired 41 teachers, mostly for "integrationist sympathies."

Agar said STOP would remain a "loosely formed organization to handle any school developments." This could mean an effort to effect ouster of closed high schools for next year's term.

Three moderate board members retained their positions with STOP backing in the vigorously contested election.

Segregationist leaders said yesterday they had no intentions of giving up because of the defeat of the Pulaski County Board of Education, which has the task of appointing successors to the recalled board members, would give no indication of its intentions yesterday.

Board Chairman J. B. Morgan of Wrightsville said the board would meet privately "within the next few days to discuss its duties in regard to the appointments."

Morgan would not say whether he felt the board would consider results of the election in naming new members. Other board members declined comment.

Three board members were militant segregationists who had the outspoken endorsement of Gov. Orval C. Faubus, the man who shut Little Rock high schools against integration last September.

Faubus was not available for comment on the election yesterday.

Youth Rescued From Jaws of a Bear

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — A 3-year-old boy was rescued from the jaws of a 250-pound bear in the City Zoo Tuesday by a teen-ager who jammed a glowing cigarette against the bear's nose.

The animal released its grip on the hand of Russell VanDam.

The boy had crawled under a guard rail and thrust his hand through a two-inch mesh screen into the bear's cage.

Thomas Cole, 19, heard the boy's mother, Mrs. Melvin J. VanDam, scream. He rushed to the cage and found her trying to pull her son's hand free. Cole reached through the screen and burned the bear's tender nose.

Russell was treated at a hospital. His condition was reported good today.

FBI Reports Mississippi Lynching Solved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government sources said today the FBI solved the Mack Charles Parker lynching and named the participants in evidence furnished over to Mississippi Gov. J. P. Coleman.

According to this report, the list was accompanied by proof of the identities of the masked men who went into the Pearl River County Jail at Poplarville, Miss., in the early morning of April 23 and dragged the screaming 23-year-old Negro first to their waiting cars.

Parker, who was on the eve of trial on a charge of raping a pregnant white woman, was found dead on the Mississippi side of the Pearl River May 4. He had been shot twice.

Today's Chicago Tribune reported an FBI solution of the case, quoting "informed sources on Capitol Hill." The newspaper said approximately 10 men were named in the list turned over to Coleman.

New Orleans television station WDSU-TV said earlier that the FBI report implicated at least 18 persons.

The FBI, which sent some 40 agents into the area immediately after Parker's abduction, announced today its investigation showed no federal law violation.

A major factor was the lack of any evidence a state line had been crossed. The body was in the swampy area opposite Bogalusa, La., but there was nothing to indicate the abductors had crossed into that state.

In announcing its withdrawal, the FBI said its extensive evidence was being turned over to Gov. Coleman for any action the state might desire to take.

Coleman has stated the evidence will be submitted to the next regular grand jury convening in Pearl River County next November.

Witness Given a Very Rough Time

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — A Saline County jury was easier on a murder defendant yesterday than the judge was on a witness.

The jury recommended a five-year suspended sentence for George King, 37, a Negro, after finding her guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting last Jan. 10 of Jo Ann Bent, 21, also Negro.

But Circuit Judge Henry D. Means fined the witness, Orlando Briggs, a Pine Bluff Negro, $100 and gave him a non-suspended 30-day jail term for failing to appear for the trial's first day Monday.

Briggs had been subpoenaed as a prosecution witness. He was sitting in an automobile with the Bent woman when she was shot.

The jury deliberated more than four hours before rejecting the prosecution's charge of first degree murder in favor of conviction for the lesser offense.

Means said he would formally sentence Mrs. King next week.

Storms Strike Central Parts of United States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another outbreak of stormy weather lashed the central part of the country Tuesday night and more showers and possible storms appeared in prospect today.

Tornadoes struck areas in five states, injuring at least nine persons and destroying or damaging several homes. The twisters, which skipped across areas in southern Oklahoma and northwestern Wisconsin, were the worst. Smaller tornadoes struck sections of Indiana, central Kansas and in suburban areas northwest of Chicago. No injuries were reported.

The tornado storms were part of a wet belt extending from Oklahoma northeast through the middle Mississippi Valley into the Great Lakes.

Eight members of two families were injured and their homes destroyed by a tornado that hit the small towns of Graling and Clemson, in southern Oklahoma.

Three twisters raked northwestern Wisconsin. One pounded the Fairchild area, injuring one person. Another struck 60 miles south at Trempealeau, while a third flattened a grain and storage shed near Eau Claire.

Heavy rains fell throughout the storm belt.

Thunderstorms also erupted in the Gulf Coast states northward into Tennessee, with heaviest falls in northern Alabama.

Cool air from Canada extended southward through the Dakotas into northwest Minnesota and Nebraska and was expected to reach the great lakes region during the day.

Showers were indicated across wide areas from the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley into western sections of the Atlantic Coast states. In the South, showers were forecast from eastern Texas across the Gulf Coast states and into the southern Atlantic Coast states.

Visiting Ministers to Discuss Geneva Meet With Ike and Herter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will discuss the Geneva conference negotiations with the foreign ministers of Russia, Britain and France.

The President and Herter today arranged a White House conference for 10:30 a. m. EDT Thursday.

They will meet with the Soviet Union's Andrei Gromyko, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and France's Maurice Couve de Murville.

Herter and the other three foreign ministers flew to Washington from Geneva for the funeral of John Foster Dulles today.

A Western diplomat had seen the visit as an opportunity for such a conference as the foreign ministers arrived at the airport.

The Geneva negotiations have been pretty much on dead-center in efforts to resolve East-West differences.

Announcement of plans for the White House conference came shortly after disclosure that Eisenhower will be host at a luncheon Thursday for the foreign ministers and high officials and dignitaries of other countries who are here for the Dulles funeral.

The President met for 45 minutes this morning with West German's Konrad Adenauer, also here for the funeral.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, announced plans for the luncheon.

Eisenhower conferred with Adenauer. The President had a 30-minute conference with Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, who was in this country on other business as well as to attend the Dulles funeral. Menzies favors an East-West summit meeting.

Italy's Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella flew in shortly after midnight for the funeral.

Others in Washington on the way included the foreign ministers of Belgium, Austria and Japan, and Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the Nationalist Chinese generalissimo.

Paul Hurri Spauk, secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, also was in hand to pay tribute to Dulles, whom he called "a great secretary of state and a great man."

Later in the morning, Foreign Minister J. M. A. H. Luns of the Netherlands flew in with his Austrian counterpart, Leopold Figl.

First of today's contingent was Gromyko, full of praise for Dulles, his old adversary at the conference table. He described the former secretary of state, dead at 71, as "an outstanding statesman, outstanding diplomat."

Gromyko, who made the trip from Geneva by commercial air liner, flew in from New York.

A little over half an hour behind him U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flew in by Military Air Transport plane with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville as passengers.

Herter said the Geneva East-West talks have "made only small progress."

"It is my hope that in the negotiating sessions that lie ahead sufficient progress can be made to justify the United States in going to a summit conference," he said.

Lloyd steered clear of world politics.

"It is said that the occasion for this visit to Washington, should be the funeral of my friend and colleague, John Foster Dulles," he said.

Couve de Murville expressed sorrow on his own part and that of his government. He said his tribute will be paid "in the spirit of that long friendship which unites France and the United States, and to the strengthening of which the late secretary of state was devoted."

Brownell in Denial of Demo Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans demanded today that former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. be allowed to reply formally to Democratic charges that he was overly friendly in handling an antitrust case.

The charges, involving American Telephone & Telegraph Co., were made Monday by four Democratic members of the House Antitrust subcommittee. Two other Democratic members did not sign the report, and the three Republicans dissented vigorously.

Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) said that "Brownell knew all about this situation and could easily have appeared before the committee if he wished."

The majority report said Brownell showed AT&T partiality, incompatible with the duties of his public office.

But the subcommittee's three Republicans, William McCulloch (Ohio), William E. Miller (NY) and George A. Miller (Mich.), said in a joint statement Brownell had been deeply wronged in the report.

There was no comment from Brownell, now with a New York law firm.

AT&T was defendant in an antitrust action centering largely around its ownership of its principal equipment supplier, Western Electric Co.

When the case was settled in 1956, AT&T was allowed to retain Western Electric, but some limitations were put on the subsidiary's activities, and it was required to share patents.

The majority report said Brownell and AT&T counsel T. Brooke Price met in 1958 at White Sulphur

Springs, Va., and Brownell suggested AT&T propose a settlement with concessions that would cause "no real injury to business."

After that, the report said, further negotiations were "largely shadowboxing" and AT&T simply knew it wouldn't lose Western Electric.

The minority charged subcommittee Democrats who wrote the report started out "to smear the leader, reporting brought forth a timely one concerning health and safety in preparing for summer vacation trips given by Mrs. Ches. (left May).

Pointers on home grounds were presented by Mrs. A. B. King followed by group discussion. Mrs. Chester May and Mrs. Kent Light received anniversary gifts from their secret friends.

AN interesting game period was held by Mrs. Clyde Huckabee with Mrs. Chester May as winner. Several members were absent from the meeting because of Mrs. J. L. Light being in the hospital. The June meeting will be in the home of Mrs. O. D. Middlebrooks.

Miss Audrey Sue Bright Weds C. M. Bittle, Jr.

On May 19 the Rev. W. E. Hays united Miss Audrey Sue Bright, daughter of George T. Bright, and C. M. Bittle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bittle, Sr. in a double ring ceremony in the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Before an improvised altar decorated with pink gladioli and pink stocks the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, John T. Bright. She wore a white street-length dress fashioned with an embroidered lace bodice and a full, dactron skirt. The short-sleeved frock had a round neck-line edged in seed pearls. A matching bandeau was worn, and the bride carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Miss Verna Bright, cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor. Her white dress had a full skirt, and with it she wore a matching hat. She had a corsage of blue carnations. Mr. Bittle served his son as best man.

At the reception, which followed the ceremony, Miss Margie Vickers served the flared wedding cake, while Mrs. Gilbert Ross presided at the punch bowl. The bride's table, overlaid with a white linen cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pink and white spring flowers.

The bride's book was in charge of Miss Lucille Bright, sister of the bride. A tape recording of the ceremony was made, and Mrs. Jim Roland of Fulton made motion pictures.

Mrs. J. N. Verser of Heber Springs, grandmother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Arrington of Nashville were out-of-town guests.

Lonely Mid-Agers Seek Social Life

Dear Dorothy Dix: There are many people from 25 to 45 who are alone for one reason or another. Some of us are divorced, others have lost mates through death and others never married. Our problem is that we don't know where to find people in similar circumstances. The "golden agers" range from 60 upward. They have social clubs that provide wonderful times. I'm glad for them. The very young also have their clubs but we who are caught in the in-between group should be able to have good times, too. What do you say?

Loneliness 30

Dear Girl: There simply aren't enough of you to make a general social program work. Every community, for instance, has a good number of old people so the bride wore a two-piece navy dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. They are making their home at the Experiment Station until he leaves this week for an assignment in the Azores with the U. S. Navy.

During the 18-hour flight, Herter, Lloyd and De Murville reviewed prospects for persuading the Soviet Union to offer enough concessions in Geneva to insure a German settlement.

Assistant Secretary of State Andrew G. Bessie, in a message aboard the plane, told newsmen the three Western foreign policy chiefs mainly discussed strategy.

Bessie said the secret phase of the Geneva conference, due to begin officially Friday afternoon in Geneva, actually will start aboard the Air Force plane which will fly the three men, along with Gromyko, back to the Swiss city.

Any talks in Washington or aboard the plane will be colored by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's tough talk in Alabama. A quick review of Western strategy appeared certain.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator after senator has made a pitch this session for some flower to become the national emblem. Usually the flower blooms in his home state.

Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich.) has decided to stay out of the controversy and host his home state at the same time. He recently sent each senator a note that reads: "No matter what your candidate for the national floral emblem, we of Michigan are confident it will grow best in Michigan soil."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has received legislative proposals aimed at wiping out interstate crime syndicates.

The Justice Department sent the packing also Congress Sunday. Proposals include: (1) a law granting immunity to witnesses in labor racketeering cases so they cannot use the Fifth Amendment to evade testifying, and (2) a law preventing persons from deducting illegal income on their tax returns.

Yankees Pushed Even Deeper Into Cellar

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A winning blend of hitting and pitching has kept Cleveland on top in the American League pennant race. When the hitters miss, the pitchers can do that job for them.

Left-hander Don Ferrarese took care of the pitching and the punch for the Indians Tuesday night, combining with reliever Jim Perry for a four-hit shutout while driving in two runs and scoring one with three consecutive doubles in a 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

That pushed Cleveland two games ahead of the second place White Sox and put Ferrarese in the record book as the fifth pitcher to hit three two-baggers in a nine-inning game and the first to do it in 20 years.

The White Sox's second white-washing in three games left them just a half game ahead of Baltimore's third place Orioles, who defeated Washington 6-5. Detroit stayed on the move with a 9-6 victory over Kansas City and Boston stomped it skid by pounding the New York Yankees deeper into the cellar 12-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh left-hander Harvey Haddix pitched 12 perfect innings and claimed the longest no-hit in history—yet lost 2-0 to first place Milwaukee with a one-hitter in 18 innings. San Francisco retained second with a 6-4 victory over Los Angeles, and Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 2-1 in the only other game scheduled.

Haddix Hurls 12 Perfect Innings But Loses Game

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

How good do you have to be? In all baseball history only seven pitchers ever have accomplished a perfect game, and none game scheduled.

Ferrarese, a month shy of his 30th birthday, and the only hit off Chicago right-hander Dick Donovan for four innings. Then he cracked the shutout duel in the fifth with his second double, scoring Woody Held, who had singled, and scored himself when Jim Piersall followed with a double. Another single-doubt combination by Held and Ferrarese wrapped it up against Donovan (2-3) in the seventh.

Right-hander Tom Brewer gave up two runs in the first inning on three hits, then blanked the Yankees on four singles the rest of the way for his third victory of the season.

Haddix, giving up just one hit, was a loser. Lew Burdette, giving up a dozen hits, was a winner. There was nothing to approach Haddix's heart-breaker of course, but the other two games scheduled in the NL had their moments of drama, too. At San Francisco, the Giants clung to second place by beating Los Angeles 6-4 on Lon Wagner's pinch-hit, grand-slam home run with one out in the ninth. At Cincinnati, comeback guy Don Newcombe won his third in a row for the Reds, beating Philadelphia 2-1.

In the American League, Don Ferrarese, who drove in two runs and scored one with a record-tying three doubles, combined with reliever Jim Perry for a four-hit shutout as first place Cleveland gained a two-game lead over second place Chicago with a 3-0 over-had to go more than nine innings. In all baseball history no one ever had pitched more than 10 hitless innings.

Yet Tuesday night, in the greatest pitching performance of all time, Harvey Haddix, Pittsburgh's slim southpaw, pitched 12 innings of perfect ball—and lost.

An error, a sacrifice, an intentional walk and the only hit Haddix allowed—a rule-book double by Joe Adcock—did it, giving Milwaukee's National League leading Braves a 2-0 victory in 13 innings.

The White Sox, Baltimore defeated Washington 6-5. Detroit rapped Kansas City 9-5 and Boston belted New York 12-2.

After Haddix, who enters the record book with a 12-inning no-hitter, had retired 33 men in order, Felix Manilla, roached base on Don Hoak's error leading off the 13th at Milwaukee. Ed Matthews followed with a sacrifice and Haddix then walked Hank Aaron, the majors' top hitter at .442, intentionally.

Adcock then put a high slider over the fence for an apparent home run. A jubilant Aaron, how ever, cut for the dugout after rounding second and was passed by Adcock. The Braves hustled Aaron back to the base path and he resumed his journey home for the second run, with Adcock credited with a double.

There was a controversy over the score, however. NL President Warren Giles announced, he believes the score should be 1-0, with Mantilla's run closing out play. But until an official change is made, the score reads 2-0.

For Haddix (3-3) "It's just another loss and they're not good." Burdette (8-2), the majors' top winner, didn't walk a man and struck out two to Haddix (eight), for his second shutout. He had only two wobbly innings—the third, when the Pirates had three singles, and the ninth, when they collected two.

Some Enchanted Evening...

— Is just exactly what it was at the Hope High School Junior-Senior Prom which for the past three years has been an all-night affair. Here in pictures and text is the story of that Enchanted Evening which the graduating seniors and the seniors-to-be will cherish for a long, long time. The setting was a tropical paradise with beautiful murals covering two walls, a thatch covered bandstand and a simulated volcano which served as a background for the throne of the king and queen. Music was by Winfred Huckabee and "The Continentals."
